Dining Room

Botsko Builders, Inc. and Robin's Nest Interiors

Mark Botsko, Botsko Builders, Inc.

With over 20 years in the home building industry, the foundation of Mark Botsko's business style is to "fulfill his customer's dream."

A previous multi-award Parade home builder, Mark has developed a strong staff including an office manager and five superintendents who are highly skilled craftsmen with an average of 20 years of experience.

Botsko likes to build many different styles of homes with his main focus directed on the homeowners wants from a custom-built home. Botsko Builders design many of their homes using CAD (computer aided design) software. With these options, they have the design capabilities that enable them to produce the style and size that best suit individual needs and desires.

Botsko Builders construct homes throughout the middle Tennessee area including Fairvue Plantation in Gallatin, Hidden Point, Bluegrass Downs and Blue Ridge in Hendersonville, Princeton Hills in Brentwood and Hill Place, Hunterdon and Bancroft in Nashville.

Originally from Youngstown, Ohio, Mark earned a bachelor's of science degree from Youngstown State University. He and his wife, Jennifer, live in Hendersonville and have two children, Mark and Christopher.

Robin Meyer, Robin's Nest Interiors

Robin Meyer founded Robin's Nest Interiors in 1998 after spending a decade working in public relations and marketing in the cable television industry. During her career, Meyer's created high profile promotional campaigns to further cable programming public awareness. Meyer earned numerous NCTA and CTAM awards for creative multi-media promotional campaigns.

Robin's Nest Interiors focuses on designing interiors for clients' lifestyle needs. All interior work concentrates on function and aesthetics working together to achieve the overall look. Meyer's designs have been published in "Builder Architect" and also featured on HGTV.

Most of her design work is residential, focusing on estate homes and complete remodeling. Most recently, Meyer completed design work on an 11,000 square foot log home in Castalian Springs, Tennessee.

Robin was educated at MTSU and Watkins College of Art and Design, where she became a member of ASID. Her design career has taken her throughout middle Tennessee to Los Angeles to Chicago. She lives in Hendersonville with her husband Bob, and they have two children, Juliana and Daniel.
